Discussion Plan & Interview Questions

Objective	To explore how working professionals perceive and practice personal productivity in modern work environments and compare these insights with existing research findings.	Understanding & Measurement of Productivity 1. How do you define personal productivity in your current work environment? 2. In your experience, what changes in the workplace have increased the importance of personal productivity? 3. How is productivity evaluated in your organisation (e.g., output quality, efficiency, deadlines, collaboration)?
Interview Format	• Semi-structured interview (20–25 minutes) • Conducted online. • Open-ended questions for deeper insights	Habits & Work Practices 4. What habits or routines help you stay productive at work? 5. What tools or methods do you use to manage tasks and improve efficiency?
Key Discussion Themes	1. Understanding of Personal Productivity – How professionals define productivity in their work context 2. Habits, Tools & Work Practices – Daily routines, digital tools, focus strategies 3. Challenges in Hybrid/Remote Work – Distractions, burnout, collaboration issues 4. Productivity & Future Skills – Role of self-management, adaptability, resilience	Hybrid Work & Challenges 6. How has remote or hybrid work affected your productivity? 7. What are the biggest challenges that reduce productivity in your role, and how do they impact performance? 8. Can you describe a specific change or strategy that significantly improved your productivity and its impact on your performance?
Outcomes Expected	Insights will be analyzed to identify patterns, similarities, and contradictions with secondary research findings.	Future Expectations & Skills 9. How do you think productivity expectations will change in the next 5–10 years? 10. In your experience, can someone succeed with strong technical skills but weak productivity skills? Why or why not? 11. What productivity skills should students develop for the future of work?
